About Us

We are Harbour Fest Inc., a Not For Profit organization, located in Bonavista, NL. We set out to bring a sense of community and connection to locals and visitors, by organizing a festival - Harbour Fall Fest. We started this adventure in 2022, after we picked up the pieces that a global pandemic left behind, and realized that people really do need people, and Harbour Fall Fest will be the event to reconnect. We've partnered with Ye Matthew Legacy again this year to bring this community event to life.

It's been a rough couple of years on everyone, one way or another. The mindset that safety comes with isolation and distance seems to have clung to us, and we find ourselves forgetting how much we truly need each other.

The summers here in Bonavista are a breath of fresh air, immersing ourselves in welcoming visitors to our neck of the woods. And then the fall comes, everything slows down, visitors start to leave - and take with them the excitement of the adventures they had here and the lively hustle and bustle. So it only makes sense that we have to extend that sense of togetherness and community that we crave.

This fueled the idea of a fall festival, and the beginning of Harbour Fall Fest! We plan to keep the excitement and fun going, while bringing the fall flare that everyone loves. Embrace the changes and the "harvesting" if you will, of all the memories made in the past seasons.

Our purpose is to bring the community and visitors together to celebrate the change in season and embrace what the fall season brings us!

Harbour Fall Fest is all about bringing locals and visitors together to celebrate the change of season. We like to start the fall off with something spectacular! After raving reviews last year, adding to the stacked fall line up of events.
